

Andy Yarbrough, MEd, LAT, ATC

Alma Mater:

Charleston Southern University, B.S. 2000
Cumberland University, M.Ed. 2002

E-mail: andy.yarbrough@lpnt.net

Phone: 615-440-7109

Andy Yarbrough is in his first year as athletic trainer at Station Camp High School. He works with all 23 sport teams and its nearly 500 athletes. His duties include the athletic healthcare administration at Station Camp High School by prevention, clinical evaluation and diagnosis, immediate care, treatment, rehabilitation and reconditioning of athletic injuries of injuries that occur during participation in athletic activities. These services are vital to the health and safety of student-athletes. His position is made possible through BodyGuard Sports Medicine, an affiliate of HighPoint Health System.

Yarbrough is a Certified Athletic Trainer and holds Tennessee Licensure to practice Athletic Training by the State of Tennessee Department of Health. He is also a certified instructor for the American Heart Association. His memberships include the National Athletic Trainers' Association and the Tennessee Athletic Trainers' Society.

Yarbrough received his Bachelors of Science degree in physical education with an emphasis in sports medicine from Charleston Southern University in 2000. After completing his bachelor's degree, Yarbrough attended Cumberland University in Lebanon, Tennessee, where he received his master's degree in education with a teacher licensure in 2002. He served as a graduate assistant athletic trainer at Cumberland, where he was responsible for the health care of various athletic teams.

He began his career at Charleston Southern University in 2002. While at Charleston Southern, Yarbrough had the opportunity to work with various NCAA Division I athletic teams including Football, Men's Basketball, Baseball and Cross Country. He also assisted in the supervision and education of athletic training students along with administrative and rehabilitative duties. In 2007, He began working with Sumner Regional Medical Center providing outreach athletic training services to Gallatin High School.

Yarbrough has been involved with academics, serving as a preceptor for both Cumberland University and Middle Tennessee State University. He has taught at Gallatin High School as a Health Science instructor and as an adjunct instructor at Volunteer State Community College. He has been active in the TATS Secondary School Committee and coordinated and/or assisted in various Coaches' Clinics and Athletic Training Student Workshops.

Yarbrough has also worked with Nike covering various elite basketball camps including Skills Academies, LeBron James Academies and the Jordan Brand Classic.

Yarbrough He is a former collegiate runner and enjoys road races in his spare time. He is married to Molly Darling Yarbrough, Head Volleyball Coach at SCHS, and they have two children, Drew and Anna Kate.